We invite you to enjoy the magic that occurs when Religious Educators create resources that engage all of us on our Unitarian Universalist journey. Welcome to UUCARDS Spring 2014!

We are pleased to introduce you to the resources available from UUCARDS members. More information about contributors, the resources, purchase arrangements (shipping and handling, discounts, special arrangements) and order forms for each member is on the website at www.uucards.org. Please note that new items on the listing

And, as you create materials, let us make that known to others. Membership information is on the website. You are welcome to contact any of the members, or uucards@uucards.org with questions and comments.

Helen Zidowecki for UUCARDS

Independent writers enrich the options available. Too often a religious educator comes up with excellent materials that do not go beyond that particular congregation, and really should be out there for others. We should make that easier to do. There is such a wealth of creativity and experience to be shared among UUs! When I think of all the wonderful curriculums and resources created by independent writers, I think, "What a gift to our UU kids!" What we would have missed without them.
